

Dear Teacher of Older Adults:

You have one of most significant responsibilities in the church – to teach God’s Word to older adults and influence them as they impact the lives of many generations. How can I help teach some of the most experienced Bible learners as well as those who are unfamiliar with God’s Word? How can I help my class influence our church to connect with older adults who cannot or have not experienced transformation through a relationship with Christ? These are questions many teachers of older Adult Sunday School members and prospects ask, and for good reason. We want to know if what we are doing is making a difference in the Kingdom.

I’m David Apple, Adult Ministry Specialist at LifeWay in Nashville. I teach an Adult Bible study class in the church where I Pastor, and I seek ways for my teaching to be used of God in transforming the lives of my members and prospects. The bottom line, I think, is that we want our adults to be transformed into Christlikeness so they think and act like Christ, help our church become more like the Body of Christ, and influence our community to reflect more like the Kingdom of God.

So, how does a teacher teach to meet the needs of all learners in a class—and impact the community through the ministry of our class? Teaching older adults today can be challenging as well as remarkably rewarding!

I want to personally invite you to an event that helps you learn how to overcome this challenge and teach with life-changing impact! TRANSFORM! is coming to Tempe, Arizona on Saturday, March 24, 2012, at CrossPointe Church, 1001 East Southern Avenue, Tempe. The conference is 8:30 am to 2:30 pm, with lunch included.

I’ll be leading the training for Adult Teachers who work with older adults. I will have the privilege of helping you focus on the following:

- Ingredients for preparing and leading life-changing Bible study with older Adults
- Ways to focus on God’s Word as fresh and relevant for today’s older Adults
- 7 principles that impact what influences me as a teacher
- What today’s teacher can learn from the Master as we are to teach like He did
- Strategies for involving more older adults in life changing Bible study

I’ll see you at CrossPointe Church on March 24! May God continue to bless you for all you do for the Kingdom!
